

getting ^{to} the heart

Presented by bill thomas and michael schmitt

an evening of improvable, CRAZINESS

Our success, in everything, will be guided by our ability to bring fresh ideas to whatever we do. We must continually create and innovate or quit. Playing well with others is the key that opens the doors of possibility. Not even those solo sailors or wandering cowboys did it alone. The cowboy had a horse and the others had teams surrounding them. Our pit crews make everything possible.

Open the doors of possibility.
Applaud failure.
Start down the path of creativity.
Exercise your innovation muscles.
Liberate your passion.
Unleash your audacity.
Create trust.
