

BBC was born 11 years ago, some say,
to connect what's become an assorted array.

Kragen, our trusted leader, starts with intros and quips.
Laughter and tag lines run freely between coffee sips.

Steve keeps up with name tags and the collection of dues.
In exchange is an hour focused on positive news.

Our two Kevins, situated in the back,
mumble comic relief with a joke or wise crack.

Ruddick ruminates day and night,
looking for Flo from Progressive's website.

Leslie and Jason a dynamic duo, indeed.
Island politics, business, and computers they lead.

Indigo Paint, SpiderLily Web, we can name drop galore;
no matter who shows up, it's never a bore.

Raise your coffee mugs and on the count of three....

Happy 11th Anniversary, BBC!
