Our History

- Founded in 1996, Interfaith Volunteer Caregivers (IVC) began with island religious congregations recognizing needs of vulnerable neighbors
- Judith Louderback secured initial funding from the Robert Woods Johnson Foundation and channeled through Kitsap Hospice.
- A Board of Directors was established with Joyce Veterane, Joan Treacy, Dick Gregory, Sue and Bob Kuebler as the executive committee along with help from Beulah Downing. IVC was officially incorporated on April 29th, 1997
- Name change in 2014 to Island Volunteer Caregivers for more inclusivity

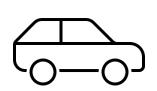

Island Volunteer Caregivers

All services begin with:

Resource Navigation, advocacy or referral and/or an assessment

IVC's Core Services

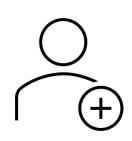

Light Housework and Gardening

A clean home or yard can lift someone spirits and aid the healing process for care receivers recovering from various ailments

Companionship

Visiting face to face; calling to offer encouragement; or taking a care receiver for a scenic walk or drive offers life-giving connection that truly enriches their lives

Errands & Groceries

Care Receivers have a better chance of avoiding food insecurity when volunteers accompany them to get groceries or pick their order up and deliver it to their home

Core Support Programs

IVC connects Care Receivers to companionship-based services and activities that help combat loneliness and isolation, thereby minimizing risk factors that may inhibit their ability to age and thrive in place.

IVC offers a variety of spiritlifting life enrichment programs for Care Receivers ranging from small group excursions to arts and entertainment offerings, walking, shopping, and more.

IVC supports people on their journey through grief through two types of Grief Support: Grief Support Groups and a One-on-One support program called Compassionate Companions.

IVC's Family & Friends Caregivers Support Group is open to anyone caring for a loved one. Meet with a supportive group of people who can relate and won't judge.
